7 Tips for Ensuring a Successful MERS® Annual Report Review

All MERSCORP Holdings, Inc. (MERS®) General and Patron Members named as the Servicer on one or more active MIN Records as of March 31 must submit an Annual Report by December 31 of the same year.

While members with less than 1,000 MINs may elect to have either an internal or an external party complete the annual report review, those with more than 1,000 MINs must use an external reviewer.

As the mortgage industry partner of choice in audit, risk and compliance, MQMR is well versed in serving as an external MERS® annual report reviewer.

Based on its wealth of experience in assisting lenders with this component of their MERS® Quality Assurance (QA) requirements, MQMR has compiled a list of the top seven tips to help lenders ensure a successful MERS® Annual Report Review.

PLEASE NOTE

MERSCORP Holdings, Inc. (MERS®) does not approve, endorse or recommend one QA vendor over another. MERS® does maintain a list of QA vendors on its website.

WRITTEN MERS® POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The #1 tip for a compliant MERS® QA program is to ensure you have well documented, comprehensive MERS policies and procedures. These policies and procedures should be designed to provide reasonable assurance that the member is managing key items, such as reject warning reports, associated registrations, transfers, any status updates on open items and aging reports, any of the requirements for their corporate resolution management system (CRMS), in addition to any of the requirements for subservicer monitoring and oversight and the Service Level Agreement (SLA), if applicable.

LIST OF MERS® USERS AND GLOBAL ADDRESS LIST (GAL)

Monitoring an active list of your MERS users and a GAL email address within the MERS system ensures communication between MERS and the member is timely and user access is actively being maintained. NOTE: This is in addition to maintaining the emailing addresses of the MERS system contacts such as the Compliance Officer, Executive Sponsor and the QA Officer, just to name a few.

SIGNING OFFICER CERTIFICATION AND CRMS QUARTERLY ATTESTATION

To retain your authority to act in the name of MERS®, your Signing Officers must complete their certification or recertification at the required intervals within the MERS® System, as well as an annual recertification process by the last day of October. You must also complete a quarterly attestation for each organization ID managed within the CRMS system to be in compliance with the MERS® System rules and procedures for your Signing Officers. This process helps ensure the accuracy of the Corporate Resolution (see Tip #4) and can be completed by either a Signing Officer or the CRMS Manager.

MERS® CORPORATE RESOLUTION

The Corporate Resolution is a foundational document in terms of your relationship with MERS®, and as such, it is critical to ensure this document is up-to-date and valid and that individuals listed on the Corporate Resolution as Signing Officers match the information on file with MERS®.

SYSTEM-TO-SYSTEM RECONCILIATION

In regard to compliance with MERS® requirements, it is simply not enough to reconcile your data between the MERS® System and your internal system of record (e.g. loan origination system and/or mortgage servicing platform). You must also provide evidence of this reconciliation, which can vary depending on how your organization has chosen to conduct the reconciliation process, and validate that any discrepancies identified during the reconciliation process are being tracked and monitored until they are cleared.

MOST RECENT MERS EQA PLAN AND PROOF OF APPROVAL BY MERS FROM THE PRIOR YEAR AND ANY REMEDIATION PLANS (IF APPLICABLE)

MERS® wants to see that you are monitoring your performance against your QA Plan and reviewing your plan annually for its effectiveness. An easy way to prove this is to provide your eQA Plan, along with proof of approval from MERS® of the previous year's plan and any remediation plans you may have been required to submit if deficiencies were found in the previous year's review. This also helps demonstrate to MERS® that you understand its QA requirements and are working to rectify those deficiencies that were identified in your last audit review.

PROOF OF PERFORMANCE MONITORING AGAINST THE CURRENT QA PLAN AND ANY MERS® SELF-AUDITING REPORTS/ DOCUMENTATION

As noted above, you may be required to submit an action plan if issues were found in the previous year's audit, which outlines the steps it will take to remedy the issues found, and the following year's audit will need to verify whether you rectified those issues. In addition to providing evidence of ongoing commitment to improvement and compliance, this information also ensures audit continuity from year to year.

For example, your organization may not have met the required MIN threshold for an external audit or may have used another audit firm for previous audits. Using the previous year's audit review report and any associated documentation as a guidepost for the current year's review helps ensure you are continuing to meet the expectations set by MERS®.

CONCLUSION

While the above list is by no means exhaustive, these tips should provide you with a solid foundation for ensuring a successful MERS® Annual Report Review.

One last piece of advice – don't wait until December to get started on your review. Even though the deadline to submit your Annual Report is December 31, you are free to conduct your Annual Report Review throughout the year, and we recommend starting no sooner than the second half of the year in order to be able to provide substantial evidence of MERS® activity during the review.

Whether you meet the threshold for needing an external reviewer or not, utilizing an experience third-party firm to conduct your MERS® Annual Report Review can significantly ease the burden of meeting this requirement, thereby freeing up your internal team to focus on other priorities.
